Continuation of Brief Description of Arguments to be Presented:

Examiner Monikang did not consider the amendments made to the independent claims in the previous Office Action Response properly. This is evidenced by the current Office Action, where the reasoned rejections on page 3 failed to include the limitations added to the independent claim 1 that include a notification transmitter, WLAN transceiver, and a cellular network transceiver, all configured to receive the alert from the notification server and transfer the notification message to a portable electronic device. For clarification, the Applicants include the proposed amended claim 1.

Referring to Figure 1 of the present application, the Applicants respectfully submit that what the Applicant is attempting to claim and describe in the response and amended claims is that the system of the present application includes a notification server 52 that is capable of sending an alert to a caregiver receiver 58, 60, 62, using any of a cellular network 42 notification transmitter 40 or WLAN access point 33. In other words, this system is capable of transmitting alerts to the same caregiver receiver using a number of different protocols. Neither Statview, Brown, nor their combination teach this type of architecture and functionality. The Applicant looks forward to discussing all of these points with the Examiner during the Examiner interview on Tuesday, February 24. Again, the Applicants respectfully thank the Examiner for his kind attention and willingness to interview this case.
